Child Safe Policy

OUR COMMITMENT TO CHILD SAFETY

Rutherglen Agricultural Society Inc. is committed to child safety and wellbeing.

- We want children to feel safe, happy and empowered.
- We are committed to the safety, participation and empowerment of all children.
- We have ZERO tolerance of child abuse, and all allegations and safety concerns will be treated very seriously and consistently.
- We have legal and moral obligations to contact authorities when we are worried about a child's safety, which we follow rigorously.

Rutherglen Agricultural Society Inc. is committed to preventing child abuse and identifying risks early, and removing and reducing these risks.

We support and respect all children, as well as our volunteers. We are committed to the cultural safety of Aboriginal children, the cultural safety of children from culturally and/or linguistically diverse backgrounds, and to providing a safe environment for children with a disability.

If you believe a child is at immediate risk of abuse phone 000.

Our Children

This policy is intended to empower children who are vital and active participants in our organisation. We listen to their views and respect what they have to say.

We promote diversity and tolerance in our organisation, and people from all walks of life and cultural backgrounds are welcome.

Our Volunteers

This policy guides our volunteers on how to behave with children in our organisation.

All of our volunteers are provided with our code of conduct which specifies the standards of conduct required when working with children.

Supervision

Education is important to ensure that everyone in our organisation understands that child safety is everyone's responsibility.

Our organisational culture aims for all volunteers (in addition to parents/carers and children) to feel confident and comfortable in discussing any allegations of child abuse or child safety concerns.

We support our volunteers through ongoing supervision to: develop their skills to protect children from abuse; and promote the cultural safety of all children.

New volunteers will be supervised regularly to ensure they understand our organisation's commitment to child safety and that everyone has a role to play in protecting children from abuse, as well as checking that their behaviour towards children is safe and appropriate (please refer to Rutherglen Agricultural Society Inc.'s code of conduct to understand appropriate behaviour further). Any inappropriate behaviour will be reported through appropriate channels, including the Department of Health and Human Services and Victoria Police, depending on the severity and urgency of the matter.

Recruitment

We take all reasonable steps when recruiting volunteers to carry out Working with Children checks to ensure we have people who are fit to work with children.

We actively encourage applications from Aboriginal peoples, people from culturally and or linguistically diverse backgrounds and people with a disability.

All people engaged in child-related work are required to hold a Working with Children Check and to provide evidence of this check. This includes, but is not limited to, all judges, stewards, ride operators and children's entertainers as well as committee members who, under reasonable circumstances interact with children in carrying out their duties to the Society. Please see the Working with Children Check website (www.workingwithchildren.vic.gov.au) for further information.

If during the recruitment process a person's records indicate a criminal history then the person will be given the opportunity to provide further information and context.

Fair Procedures for Personnel

The safety and wellbeing of children is of primary concern. We are also fair and just to personnel. The decisions we make when recruiting, assessing incidents and undertaking disciplinary action will always be thorough, transparent, and based on evidence.

We record all allegations of abuse and safety concerns using our incident reporting form, including investigation updates. All records are securely stored.

If an allegation of abuse or a safety concern is raised, we provide updates to children and families on progress and any actions we as an organisation take.

Privacy

All personal information considered or recorded will respect the privacy of the individuals involved, whether they be volunteers, parents or children, unless there is a risk to someone's safety. We have safeguards and practices in place to ensure any personal information is protected. Everyone is entitled to know how this information is recorded, what will be done with it, and who will have access to it.

Legislative responsibilities

Our organisation takes our legal responsibilities seriously, including:

- Failure to disclose: Reporting child sexual abuse is a community wide responsibility. All adults in Victoria who have a reasonable belief that an adult has committed a sexual offence against a child under 16 have an obligation to report that information to the police. (see notes: #)

- Failure to protect: People of authority in our organisation will commit an offence if they know of a substantial risk of child sexual abuse and have the power or responsibility to reduce or remove the risk, but negligently fail to do so. (see notes: *)
- Any personnel who are mandatory reporters must comply with their duties. (see notes: ^)

Risk Management

In Victoria, organisations are required to protect children when a risk is identified (see information about failure to protect above). In addition to general occupational health and safety risks, we proactively manage risks of abuse to our children. We have risk management processes in place to identify, assess and take steps to minimise child abuse risks which include risks posed by physical environments and online environments.

Regular Review

This policy will be reviewed every two years and following any significant incidents if they occur. Where appropriate we do our best to work with local Aboriginal communities, culturally and/or linguistically diverse communities and people with a disability.

Allegations, concerns and complaints

Our organisation takes all allegations seriously and has practices in place to investigate thoroughly and quickly.

We work to ensure all children, families and volunteers know what to do and who to tell if they observe abuse or are a victim, and if they notice inappropriate behaviour.

We all have a responsibility to report an allegation of abuse if we have a reasonable belief that an incident took place (see information about failure to disclose above).

If an adult has a reasonable belief that an incident has occurred then they must report the incident. Factors contributing to reasonable belief may be:

- A child states they or someone they know has been abused (noting that sometimes the child may in fact be referring to themselves),
- Behaviour consistent with that of an abuse victim is observed (see notes: +),
- Someone else has raised a suspicion of abuse but is unwilling to report it,
- Observing suspicious behaviour.

NOTES

A person will not commit this offence if they have a reasonable excuse for not disclosing the information, including a fear for their safety or where the information has already been disclosed.

Further information about the failure to disclose offence is available on the Department of Justice and Regulation website; www.justice.vic.gov.au/home/safer+communities/protecting+children+and+families/failure+to+disclose+offence

^ Mandatory reporters (doctors, nurses, midwives, teachers (including early childhood teachers), principals and police) must report to child protection if they believe on reasonable grounds that a child is in need of protection from physical injury or sexual abuse.
